The class described by the teachers and students at the Istituto comprensivo Frosinone 4 ^[1], the school managed by Headmaster Giovanni Gugliemi, really is a coloured class! We met with this special team on the final day of the Phyrtual Innovation Week held at the Phyrtual Innovation Gym ^[2] at the Rome Città Educativa.

The children used their creativity and passion to create a coloured stand and then work as social designers together with adults. Two girls, both called Sara (Sara Fabrizi e Sara Colapietro), used the Girogicando App and won the Knowledge Volunteer Award, together with teammates Giulia Ricci, Martina Ferretti, Alexandra Stan, Andrea De Carolis (IC Masina, Roma), Adriana Marciante (LC Aristofane), and Lia Stega (liceo Ceccano Frosinone) [see news: An Ideas Marathon ^[3]].

Now the children are ready for a new challenge, an international one, the Global Junior Challenge ^[4] with their winner: the "A Coloured Class ^[5]" Project.

Fiammetta Castagnini interviewed the project coordinator, Professor Sonia Gabrielli.
